

graffiti

JANUARY/FEBRUARY 2005

WORKSHOPS

ARTstor

Thu, Feb 3, 6-7pm

Black Studies

Tue, Feb 22, 4-5pm

Chicano Studies

Thu, Feb 24, 4-5pm

Cultural Studies

Wed, Mar 2, 6-7pm

Tue, Feb 15, 4pm-5pm

English & American Literature

Thu, Feb 17, 6-7:30pm

Finding the Articles You Need

Wed, Feb 16, 6-7pm

RefWorks 1

Tue, Feb 8, 6-7:30pm

Mon, Feb 21, 6-7:30pm

RefWorks 2

Thu, Feb 10, 6-7pm

Wed, Feb 23, 6-7pm

Using the Web for Research

Tue, Feb 22, 6-7pm

Using Full-Text Resources

Thu, Feb 24, 6-7pm

All workshops are held in Honnold/Mudd Library in one of the Keck Learning Rooms. Please ask at the Information and Reference desk for more information.

Comments about Graffiti?

Please contact Kelley Wolfe at kelley.wolfe@libraries.claremont.edu

YES YOU CAN FIND A PSYCHOLOGY TEST!

In the field of psychology, the move has been to more measurement. This means that both professional psychologists and introductory psychology students often need to find a psychology measure – a survey, a test, a scale, or something that will yield statistics for their research.

There are many tests at Honnold/Mudd Library. There are books in HON REF that include actual tests that you can copy to use for research without having to wait. An index to these tests is on the Libraries' web site at libraries.claremont.edu. Click on Research Guides by Subject, then Psychology, then Finding Tests, then Test Index.

The "Finding Tests" page also has helpful hints for looking further. And Meg Garrett, the psychology subject specialist, is always willing to help out. Email her with any psychology research question at meg.garrett@libraries.claremont.edu.

—Meg Garrett, Psychology Subject Specialist and Reference Librarian

FROM THE RARE BOOK ROOM: MINIATURE BOOKS

Visitors to Denison's Rare Book Room are always charmed by the collection of miniature books. Miniatures are typically less than 3 inches tall and the first is believed to have been created in 1468, not long after the invention of movable type. These books were published because of the low cost to make them (paper was expensive!), they were easy to travel with and easy to conceal. Featured here is The English Bijou Almanac of 1836.

—Kelley Wolfe, Denison Reference Librarian

COME SEE THE CHANGES AT HONNOLD/MUDD

To provide better service, we have rearrange some things: the Information and Reference desks have been combined and are located at the top of the stairs as you enter the building. Several upgraded computers have been placed in the room just south of this Desk. Interlibrary Loan has now merged into the Circulation area. The Copy Center has relocated to the 2nd floor, next to the Search Center. Also, you will see a variety of new art work in the building, courtesy of CGU.

—Linda Gunter, Head, Access Services

CURRENT EXHIBITS AT THE LIBRARIES

Let me Count the Ways: Love, Courtship and Marriage from Denison Library's Collections

Denison Library
February 7 –
March 31, 2005

Ideas of love, courtship and marriage are pulled together for this exhibition of materials from Denison's permanent collections. Nineteenth and twentieth century valentines and etiquette books give a historical perspective on how our attitudes toward love and courtship have changed over the past two centuries. Sonnets and other materials from the Elizabeth Barrett Browning collection and artists' books with stories of love will also be on display.

Eyewitnesses to War: Personal Narratives of the American Civil War

Honnold/Mudd Library, 2nd Floor
January 24 – March 25, 2005

This year marks the 140th anniversary of the end of the American Civil War, 1861-1865. On exhibit are firsthand accounts of soldiers and others from this period that provide immediate and personal views of the War. Of special note are handwritten manuscripts including soldier's letters and diaries, memoirs, and artifacts such as photographs, army dispatches, and music. The compelling voices documented by this exhibition provide invaluable insight and perspective to America's experience with war.

